

AQUANAUT DIVE CLUB PRESENTS THE NEXT INSTALMENT

NEMO33 Part II : DIVE HARDER

THE BRUSSELS EXPERIENCE RETURNS IN 2009

Following 2008's extremely fun trip to Brussels to dive the world's deepest swimming pool, Aquanauts are back again, descending on the Belgian capital for more hi-jinks and pool related frolics!

NEMO33 (www.nemo33.com) is the world's largest indoor swimming pool and goes down to 35m! Using fresh, clear filtered temperature controlled water, it offers a unique diving experience not to be missed. You don't even need to bring your kit as they provide everything! The trip is being planned for

21st/22nd February 2009

We'll be leaving London via Eurostar at 9am on Saturday morning, diving in Brussels in the afternoon and staying over. You've then got Sunday morning to relax/recover/sightsee and we'll be jumping back on a train on Sunday afternoon to have you home in time for Top Gear!

Cost is estimated between £100 and £150 for the weekend depending on how generous Eurostar are, but will include travel, accommodation and entry into Nemo – unfortunately you have to buy the Belgian beer yourself!

Last year's trip was a great success and if you want to know a bit more about it, feel free to ask Lynne in the shop or many of the active club members who enjoyed it so much. It's a great way to start the season and ideal for new members who want to get to know the club a bit better.

To Book, or if you have any questions, please email robin@diveaquanaut.co.uk To ensure the best prices we will be booking tickets etc by Friday 7th November. The trip will still be open afterwards, but it may be costs are slightly more and we can't guarantee a place. When you register interest, you'll get an email with details, payment requirements etc.
