

UNDERWATER NAVIGATION SPECIALTY

Did you really make your way back to the starting point on your open water and advanced open water navigation exercises using just your compass? Are you about to embark on your Rescue Diver and are concerned you might not find your 'missing diver'? Are you already a Rescue Diver but found the missing diver search a challenge, particularly if it was in low visibility?

The purpose of the PADI Underwater Navigator Specialty course is to familiarise divers with the skills, knowledge, planning, organisation, procedures, techniques, problems, hazards and enjoyment of underwater navigation.

Underwater navigation is a very important skill to learn and is vital for Rescue Divers, Divemasters and Instructors. Here we'll teach you not only how to do advanced navigation with a compass, but also how to use natural navigation while underwater.
